

ACTIVITY GUIDE

BRAVE ENOUGH

Written and illustrated by ROB JUSTUS

Published by Page Street Kids

Little Brother sees monsters everywhere, so he'd rather stay safely inside and read all about them in his books. Big Sister believes monsters are nothing but phony baloney make-believe and drags Little Brother on a hair-raising adventure to prove it.

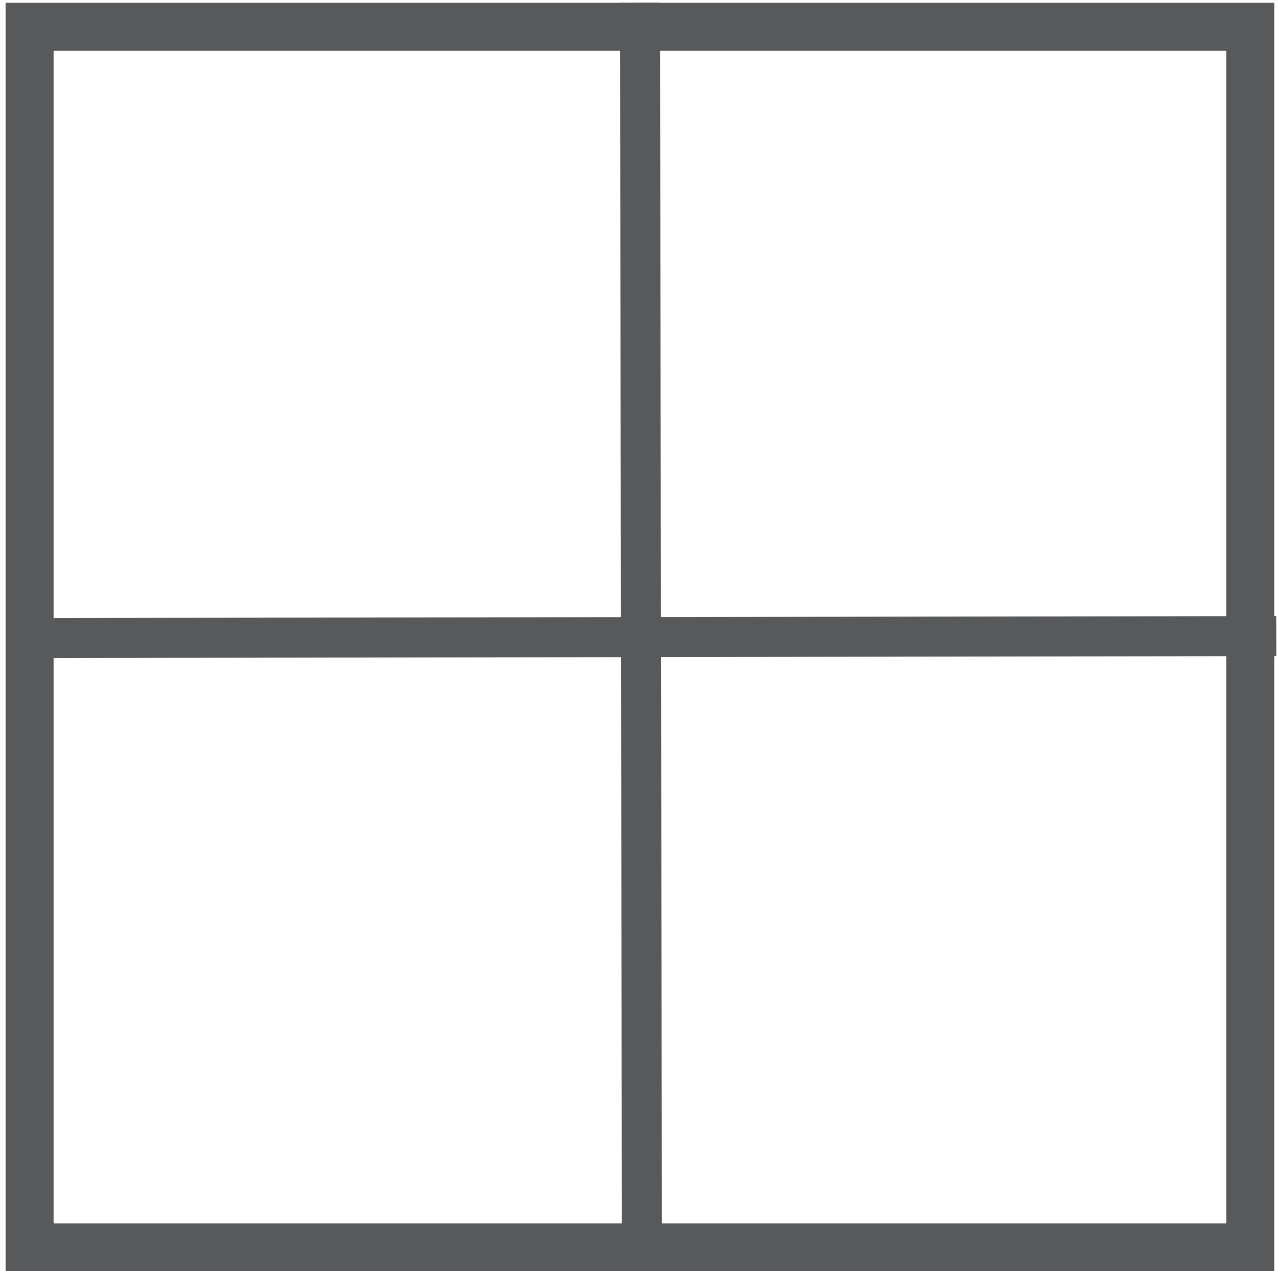

In a hilarious echo of common sibling squabbles that both older and younger siblings will appreciate, Little Brother has soon had ENOUGH of Big Sister trying to make him just like her. When Big Sister leads them into big trouble, it's time for Little Brother to show that he has what it takes to save the day.

With playful narration and lively art, Brave Enough is an entertaining adventure about how everyone can be brave in their own way and their own time.

ROB JUSTUS was scared of everything growing up (particularly aliens lurking in the basement), but now he's brave enough, brash enough, makes-a-book-about-monsters-flashy enough to love being scared. He lives in Ottawa, Canada, and is the author/illustrator/dad behind Kid Coach (Page Street Kids).

Draw a monster peeking in the window.

Are they making a funny or scary face?

Are You Yellow-Boots-Flashy Enough?

Decorate the boots below with your favorite colors, stickers, words, and pictures.

Little Brother or Big Sister?

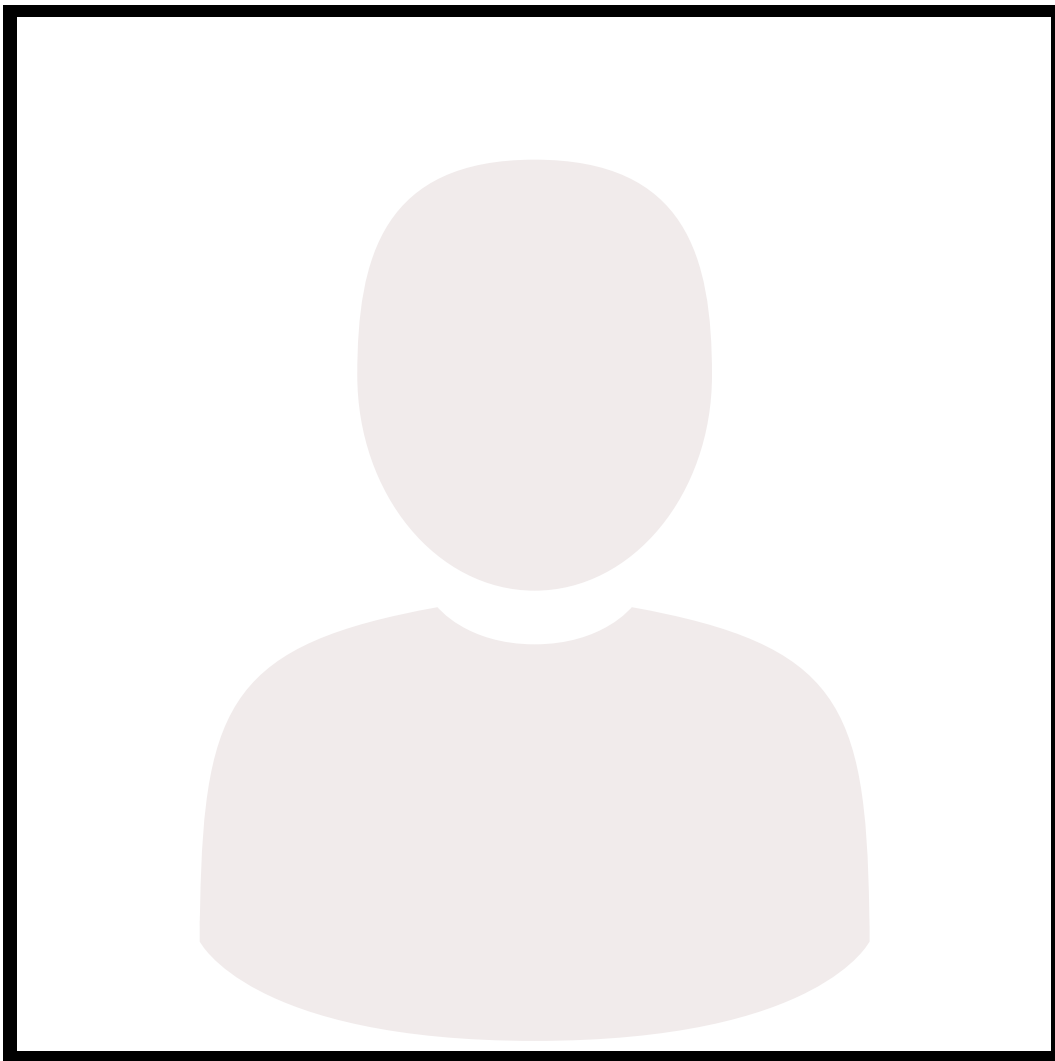

Do you have a sibling?

Yes | No

Are they older or younger than you?

Yes | No

Color the image below to look like your sibling.

What Monsters Love

In the story Brave Enough, we learn a few things that monsters love to do.

Circle each monster favorite below.

Snaps
and Taps

OR

Zaps
and Laps

Stomp
and Stamp

OR

Hiccup
and Jiggle

Wiggle
Their Toes
and Giggle

OR

Clap Some Knee Slaps

ENOUGH!

Can you think of a time when you were scared or angry? Write about that time below. What made you feel better?

